

Quiz 3

Chapter 2

1. Flash memory is used to store instructions.
2. RAM is used to store variables.
3. SFR is used to set the function of a pin.
4. The prefetch module can hold instructions ahead of time so that the CPU doesn't have to wait for instructions to load from flash. This is helpful because flash is slower than the CPU.
5. An external pull-up resistor.